HURT.

Charles Hurt, for many years a resident of this city, but for the past year or two a resident of Springfield, died at his home in that city at an early hour last Saturday morning. He had been suffering for some time with asthma, and relatives watching at his bedside left him about midnight Friday night apparently resting easy. Early Saturday morning, on going to his room, he was found lying dead on his bed. His death came as a surprise as it was not thought that he was dangerously ill. "Uncle" Charlie, as he was familiarly known in this city was a native of Kentucky, and was about 76 years of age when he died. He came to Illinois fifty years ago and had lived in Waverly most of that time. He was a veteran of the civil war, enlisting in Co. G., 101st Illinois Volunteers in this city. He is survived by one son, Seth, of Springfield. His remains were brought here last Sabbath on the 3:50 p.m. train from Springfield, accompanied by a few relatives, and taken to the East cemetery and placed near those of his wife, who had preceded him to the grave a few years ago. Short services were held at the grave by Rev. C. M. Barton of this city. He was buried by the local Grand Army post.
